How we handle your gift

What happens to a gift to HON Charity Foundation: how to give, what you can choose, what we do if something goes wrong, and what we can and cannot yet offer.

Suggested gifts

We suggest two giving levels. They are suggestions, not fixed prices, and you can give any amount.

Gift	What it goes towards
NLe 2,500	School support for a child: a school uniform, all or part of the school fees, and the materials (exercise books, a school bag, pens, pencils, a ruler, an eraser and a sharpener), delivered to the child.
NLe 25,000	A major contribution to the school and orphanage project at Mansumana: construction, facilities, furniture and other essential infrastructure.
Any amount	The Foundation's work with children, where it is most needed.

Giving online

On the Donate page of our website you choose an amount and what it is for, then pay on the secure page of our payment provider, Monime, by mobile money (Orange Money or Africell AfriMoney). Our website never sees your PIN, and nobody from the Foundation will ever ask for your card details or PIN by phone, message or email. Online gifts are in leones; for donors abroad the page shows an approximate dollar value at the rate the Foundation last set.

Monthly gifts, larger gifts and gifts in other currencies are arranged directly with our team by phone or email.

Choosing what your gift is for Online, you can give to the general fund, to school support, or to the Mansumana building fund; by phone or email, you can name another purpose. Where you choose a purpose, we make reasonable efforts to use your gift for it. If that project becomes fully funded or delayed, or your gift can no longer be used well there, we will speak with you before using it for another closely related need within our mission.

Running costs

We are committed to keeping administrative and operating costs reasonable and transparent, and to making sure the majority of donated funds directly support children and our projects. As an example, of the NLe 25,154 spent on school learning materials for 2026–2027, 86% paid for the books, pens and bags themselves and 14% for getting them to the children (see our expenditure report for that year). Our accounts have not yet been independently audited; when audited accounts exist, they will be published on our Reports page.

Zakat, Sadaqah and Waqf

Sadaqah and Waqf gifts are welcome. For Zakat, please contact us before giving, so we can advise on the right procedure and make sure it is handled according to Islamic principles.

If you give the wrong amount

If you make a gift by mistake, for example by entering the wrong amount, contact us as soon as possible and we will help put it right. Gifts are not refundable once they have been applied to our work, which is why it matters to tell us quickly.

Confirmation and receipts

When you give online, the page you return to shows when Monime has confirmed the payment, with a reference for your gift. Someone from the Foundation confirms every gift personally and tells you what it has been put towards; a written receipt is available on request. We cannot currently issue tax receipts for the United Kingdom, the United States or elsewhere.

Your details

Your name, email and phone number are optional when you give online. We use them only to thank you and to send a receipt, as our Privacy Policy explains, and you can give anonymously.
